THESE AUTO ROBES and BLANKETS cost the U.S. Government an average of about double the price named above. The sudden termination of the war ended the government's necessity for them. The International Sales Company has purchased a large number of these Auto Robes and Blankets and will give the El Paso public the first chance to secure its choice of them at the ridiculously low price of $4.50 each. Understand fully that none of these, at retail prices, are worth less than double this amount and many of them are worth as high as $20.

On Friday Morning, March 21
